another update. Aaron Rochester just called me and he informed me that he was planning on grinding the leaded and non leaded glass. I told him he could NOT grind the leaded glass and that was clearly stated during our joint inspection. He went on to say that it has a filter on it, so it is ok. I told him again NO. but am sure he is going to grind it up anyway. just thought Id let you know.

Rebecca,

Just an fyi.... I just found out today that the person who purchased Recycletronics is hoping to get a lease from 1801 1/4th street in Sioux City. I think that is one of the facilities you inspected last week. When I called the owner, he said that Aaron Rochester had filled his building with electronic waste so may back out of leasing to the new person. I am wondering why Aaron is still collecting after we told him numerous times NOT to collect.

Thanks Rebecca,

The field office stated they will not be able to be present but we would appreciate an update on any information that you find at the Iowa Locations, (if there is any stockpiling, contamination, etc). .

This is a reminder that EPA will be going to the Recycletronics sites in Sioux City and Akron, Iowa and South Sioux City, Nebraska next week (Tuesday, Wednesday, and possibly Thursday). We will take XRF readings and pull confirmation samples in addition to trying to get the best inventory we can at each site. Please let me know if you want to go with us to any of the sites. I have verbal permission from all property owners and I will be contacting Mr. Rochester today. We will also be asking the local PD to accompany us at several of the sites, especially if Mr. Rochester chooses to go with us.
